PAY THE MAYOR A SALARY OF $2,500

Also Pay the Aldermen a Salary is Suggestion of Charter Revision Committee—Aldermen Should Be Members of Public Works Board—The Report.

Suggesting that the city charter be amended to provide for the mayor being paid a salary of $2,500 per year, and that the aldermen be paid a salary of $250 a year, the sub-committee on charter revision submitted a report at the regular monthly meeting of the common council held Tuesday evening. The report was received, and Alderman Schick's motion that Mayor Canfield call a special meeting to which the public should be invited to consider the report before adopting it, was carried.

In the report submitted there are fourteen suggested changes in the city charter. One of the changes recommended is that the members of the board of public works be selected by the mayor from the board of aldermen.

The report of the committee should be read by every one interested in city affairs and reads as follows:

Kingston, N. Y., Feb. 4, 1919.

To the Honorable Common Council:

Gentlemen.

Your sub-committee of the committee of the whole to whom was referred the revision of the city charter, report that nine meetings have been held, and that careful study has been given to each question coming before the committee; inviting in some instances interested persons to appear and express their views on special amendments.

We therefore recommend that a committee be appointed to draft a suitable bill incorporating the following suggested amendments to the charter.

First—The city shall be divided into wards as follows, described as the election districts.

Second—The mayor: That the mayor be paid a salary not to exceed $2,500 per year, the amount to be fixed by the common council.

Ninth—Police Pension Fund: That the words "the sum of $5,000.00" in sub-division 93 A-1 be eliminated.

Tenth—That the commissioners of the board of public works be selected by the mayor from the board of aldermen, and not more than two of said commissioners shall be of the same political party.

Eleventh—That the board of public works shall be limited in expenditure to the amount of appropriation in any fiscal year, except by consent of the common council, and in case of contemplated improvements requiring payment to be made beyond the fiscal year the plans, specifications and estimates of the same to be approved by the common council.

Twelfth—Charities: That the board of charities be changed to three members, that all goods and merchandise and supplies be purchased at wholesale by them as a committee, certify bills, and perform such other duties as are required of boards. The outside relief, however, to be investigated and given by the superintendent or under his supervision only, and that an out-door relief card system be installed. That all bills be presented to the common council monthly for approval.

Thirteenth—That all moneys be placed at interest to the highest bidder or to the city's best advantage as the common council may deem proper.

Fourteenth—That all bills of the several departments, with the exception of the water department and the board of education, be presented monthly to the common council for approval.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Tuesday morning Prof. Lewis once more reminded the pupils of the advantages of good work during this school year. Judge Betts, well known lawyer, who has always been a true and loyal friend to the boys and girls of the high school, has offered a prize to the boy or girls who attains the highest average for this year. The marks of the term and the regents marks of next June will be averaged together so that everyone has plenty of opportunity to participate in the race for these prizes. To some people these prizes mean very little, if anything at all, but the average student they mean a great deal. They give him something to strive for and encourage him to do better than ever before. This generosity of Judge Betts is greatly appreciated and it is hoped that others will see things in the same light and help encourage the weary, hard-working student. However, this is not all. Judge A. T. Clearwater has again come to the front, as he always does when needed, and offered two more prizes for boys who excel in oration. He has always taken keen interest in the high school affairs and it was he who placed the bronze tablet in the front vestibule of the building. Those boys who intend to compete for these prizes must secure an oration of which someone other than themselves is author. They must be prepared to deliver these orations in the high school auditorium on Friday, April 11. The winners of this contest will be asked to compete again on April 25, at which time the local representative to the Hamilton Inter-Scholastic Speaking Contest at Clinton, N. Y., will be chosen. See what an opportunity the honorable judge has offered the high school boys. Somebody else come forward and supplement this offer for the girls, and give them an equal chance.

Saturday afternoon the Walden girls will visit here and play a return game of basketball with the locals. It will be remembered that a fast game took place at Walden, so all may look forward to a good game here. Come out and see a good fast girls' game and enjoy your Saturday afternoon.

This afternoon the Junior and Senior girls will clash for the first game of the girls' interclassic league. A fast game is expected, as both sides have some fast players.

NITRATE ORDER EXTENDED.

Government Fertilizer Orders Must be in by Feb. 15.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—The secretary of agriculture today announced that the final date for the filing of applications for nitrate of soda with county agents and local nitrate committees has been advanced to February 15, 1919. This action is taken in view of the fact that farmers in many parts of the county advise that they desire nitrate of soda, but were unable to file their applications prior to January 25. On account of the pressure of other work and the heavy duties devolving upon county agents in connection with the sale of nitrate, it was not possible for the county agents and members of local nitrate committees to give the desired publicity to the department's plan for selling nitrate of soda to farmers this year. By extending the time for filing applications to February 15, it is believed that every farmer who wishes to buy nitrate from the government will be given ample opportunity to do so. There probably will be enough nitrate to supply all reasonable requirements. Farmers who wish to purchase nitrate of soda from the department of agriculture and who have not already filed their applications should communicate immediately with their county agents or with local nitrate committees appointed to assist the county agents. All applications must be filed with county agents not later than February 15.

PUBLIC HEARING ON B'WAY PLANS

Common Council Adopted Mayor Canfield's Suggestion to Adjourn to Feb. 27—Henry Klein's $10,000 Claim—Skip-Stop Up.

The common council Tuesday evening adopted Mayor Canfield's suggestion contained in a communication, which was read at the regular monthly meeting that evening in which the mayor stated that the plans for the elimination of the Broadway crossing which were to be submitted to the public service commission on February 27, would be ready for the consideration of the common council the evening of February 26, and suggesting that the council adjourn to that time, and that a public hearing be held.

Mayor Canfield also called attention to the need of better facilities for keeping the records of the city and suggesting that the matter be referred to the supply committee. His suggestion was adopted.

Poughkeepsie Trolley Service.

The railroad committee submitted a report on the resolution introduced by Alderman Kelly to the effect that the trolley road run the Kingston City line cars through to Poughkeepsie instead of the Colonial line cars. The committee believed the matter was one for the public service commission to consider and referred the resolution back to the council to take such action as they deemed necessary. The only action taken was to accept and file the report.

Attorney Klein's Suit.

A communication was read from Corporation Counsel W. D. Brinnier in which he stated he had interposed an answer in Henry Klein's suit to recover $10,000 damages against the city for injuries received by a fall on an icy sidewalk in 1918 and also had taken the same action in the suit brought by Evelyn Jones. His action was approved by the council.

Wants Skip-Stop Eliminated.

Alderman Schick introduced a resolution that as the Airdrome fence on East O'Reilly street was in a dangerous condition that the Board of Public Works have it placed in safe condition or removed. Referred to that board.

Alderman Schick for Alderman Connelly introduced a resolution that the trolley road be requested to eliminate the skip-stop system of operating trolley cars and return to the old system. The resolution was adopted and the matter will be taken up with the trolley road.

Other matters considered will be found elsewhere.

FEATURES OF CONVENTION BILL

Introduced by Senator Walton—Would Provide State Party Convention for State Officers.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Freeman.)—Bills restoring the state convention were introduced in both houses of the legislature today. Senator Walton will handle the measure in the senate and Assemblyman Fearon in the assembly.

The main features of the bill will provide as follows:

A state convention for state officers and a judicial convention for supreme court judge.

At the primaries delegates are to be elected and are to be designated by petition in the same manner as are candidates for public office at present.

A state convention is to be held not earlier than the eighth Tuesday before election, and a leeway of four days is arranged for thereafter during which the chairman of the state committee may call such convention.

The committee on contested seats is abolished. If there is a contest over the election of a delegate or delegates, the supreme court or a justice of the supreme court in the district where the contest arises is given jurisdiction to settle it within eleven days. If however, the settlement of the contest is so drawn out as to interfere with the date set for the holding of the state convention, then the court can direct that a later date for such convention be set.

Independent candidates for state officers are provided for in the Walton-Fearon bill to be nominated in the same manner as at present. These nominations must be filed the eighth Tuesday before election or within seven days of election day.

Preference for a state officer or a set of state officers may be stated when they are to be nominated by delegates at the state convention. The effect of is to be the same as that of instructing delegates. This provision, however, is optional. A statement may be printed on the ballot and on the ballot setting forth that the delegates are in favor of certain candidates to be selected at the state convention. The voters will thus know who the delegates favor.

In presidential years there is to be an additional spring primary to be held on the first Tuesday in April. The people at that time will elect district delegates to a state convention. The state convention will select four delegates at large to the national convention.

HEATING PLANT FOR CITY HALL? NOT YET

Because Alderman Schilp Revised His Resolution to Read That Committee be Appointed to Investigate—City Clerk Doremus's Plan.

For about a minute it looked as though the city hall would have a new heating system installed this summer, but then Alderman Schilp revised his resolution to that effect to read that a committee be appointed to investigate the matter, at the regular monthly session of the city fathers Tuesday evening. It might be added that City Clerk Doremus has a plan for a new heating system, which he outlined at the request of Alderman Schilp.

The original resolution as introduced by Alderman Schilp, of the Fourth ward, read that the chair appoint a committee of three or five to install a new heating plant in the city hall. The alderman said that he would like the city clerk to be heard in the matter.

Mr. Doremus's Plan.

City Clerk Doremus said that while he had a pet theory he had not expected to present it at the meeting as some of the aldermen with whom he had talked had similar ideas. His idea, he said, was to install a modern heating plant on the city property on the other side of Jansen avenue. There was room for erecting a coal pocket and coal could be bought at wholesale and stored in it, and that would save money. With the new heating system it would be possible to heat the municipal building on O'Reilly street, the city hall, the high school and the library, if desired.

Resolution Changed.

Alderman Schilp said that he desired to make a change in his resolution so that it would read that the committee be appointed to investigate the practicability of installing such a plant.

Alderman Schick said that he was in favor of the amended resolution, but the only thing that caused him wonder was where the council was going to get $5,000 or $10,000 to install such a system. He said he was in favor of investigating the plan, but it was only a question of finances.

Alderman Schilp said that he had been informed that last winter it had cost $2,500 to heat the city hall alone and that with the plan proposed by Mr. Doremus there would be a saving.

"If the plant is intended to heat the buildings," remarked Alderman Schick, "you will find that the plan will cost nearer $20,000 or $30,000."

"Mr. Doremus gave us figures when we were talking it over," remarked Alderman Schilp, and showed inquiringly at the city clerk.

"I said to install the plant alone would cost about $7,000," said the city clerk.

Will Investigate.

The amended Schilp resolution was unanimously adopted and President Watts said he would announce the committee later.

Other matters taken up will be found elsewhere.

Shot Large Wild Cat.

SCHWARZWAELDER GETS D. S. CROSS

Lieut. G. S. Schwarzwaelder, of Gilboa, N. Y., a relative of George W. Schwarzwaelder, of Chichester, Ulster county, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross by Gen. Pershing for bravery in action near Vieville on November 1st. He is of the Twenty-first Machine Gun Battalion. During a heavy barrage of high explosive shells he helped an officer give first aid to a wounded officer and two soldiers after the platoon had withdrawn from the position. He had the men removed to a less exposed position and stayed with them until they were removed.

FASTING AND FEASTING.

Evangelist Pugsley's Sermon at the Wurts Street Church.

Tuesday evening the Rev. Wilson Pugsley, who is conducting a series of evangelistic meetings at the Wurts Street Baptist Church, based his sermon on the theme, "Fasting and Feasting," his text being found in St. Matthew, 17th chapter, 1st to 21st verses, and also from Isaiah, 58th chapter. His sermon in part is as follows.

Mr. Pugsley said that every promise was preceded by a condition and when we meet the condition the promise is fulfilled. We find in Matthew 17, 1-21, that three who were with Jesus accomplished more than nine who were in the valley without Christ. The nine could not cast out the evil spirit in the body, but when the three came down with Christ the evil spirit was cast out. The nine asked Christ why they could not do it, and he said such could only be cast out by prayer and fasting. If we want to see the evil one cast out we must do it by prayer and fasting. Christ gave to them an illustration of what might be accomplished by prayer and fasting, and they could do the same if they followed His example. The three went aside to receive the power to overcome the evil spirit and if we are anxious to see souls saved we will step aside and allow God to prepare us for the work. Fasting is clearly explained in Isaiah, 58th chapter. The Book of Isaiah is called on account of its wonderful teachings the fifth Gospel. It is permeated with principles and teachings for the dispensation of Grace and the fifty-eighth chapter explains clearly what fasting is, and if we follow the teachings of this chapter, we shall have the pleasure of casting out demons with the power of God. If we pay the price we will get the prize. May we study carefully God's conditions and be willing to fulfill them at any cost that we might have the pleasure of seeing Him restore man to his primitive position a child of God.

His theme for tonight is "Closed Doors." Everybody is most cordially invited to attend the services. Great interest is being shown in the meetings.

ANOTHER W. S. TRAIN

From New York On April 6th or Before at C. of C. Request.

The Chamber of Commerce has been informed by the United States Railroad Administration that train No. 97 on the West Shore Railroad, which now arrives at Newburgh at 5:02, will be extended to Kingston, arriving here at approximately 6 p. m. This change will be made about April 6th.

This action is taken in response to the petition of a number of Kingston workers employed in the Newburgh ship yards, who are at present compelled to wait almost two hours before getting a train for Kingston after the close of their days work.

This petition was brought to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce by N. Frank O'Reilly. The Chamber endorsed it and has been active with the United States Railroad Administration.

The change suggested by the petitioners was in the running time of train No. 13, which now leaves Weehawken at 1:23 p. m. The United States Railroad Administration find that the present running time of this train is satisfactory to the majority of passengers using it and are unwilling to make the change.

The Chamber of Commerce and Mr. O'Reilly, for the petitioners, are now asking the Railroad Administration to extend train No. 97 to Kingston at once instead of on April 6th.

An elaborate dinner was served the Kingston guests after the installation and the Saugerties lodge gave the visitors a warm reception.

TO ABOLISH SKIP-STOPS SATURDAY

Superintendent TeBow of Trolley Road Announces Return to Old System of Operating Cars That Day.

Superintendent G. Burton TeBow of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company announced this afternoon that the skip-stop system of operating trolley cars would be abolished Saturday, February 8, and that at that time the cars would be operated under the old system of stopping at all street corners, and between blocks where indicated by white poles.

The skip-stop system of operating trolley cars was adopted all over the country at the request of the government to save coal, and while it worked a certain amount of hardship on the traveling public there were no complaints as every one was anxious to do what was possible to help win the war.

With plenty of coal on hand and being mined the necessity of the skip-stop system has been eliminated.

FILM SHOWING FOR ROTARIANS

The Rotary Club, at its noon luncheon today gave a demonstration in time-saving and efficiency by discussing and disposing of several amendments to its by-laws while the meal was in progress. This was in order that the business might be disposed of in time for the members to enjoy the entertainment program which consisted of a moving picture exhibition in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium, showing the work of the telephone at the front and in camp during the war. The film and explanations were provided by Willis Hills of the New York Telephone Company and were greatly enjoyed.

C. OF C. VOTING

On Recommendations for Legislation of Interest to Nation's Business.

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce has received from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States Referendum No. 26 on the report of the federal trade committee of the United States Chamber regarding trust legislation.

Four questions are stated in the referendum:

1—The committee recommends that congress shall at once consider the situation of all statutes constituting our anti-trust legislation.

2—The committee recommends that there should be formulated standards of general business conduct to be administered by a supervisory body.

3—The committee recommends that an enlarged federal trade commission should be made the supervisory body.

4—The committee recommends that the membership of the federal trade commission should be increased from five to nine.

The vote of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce on these questions must be returned to the United States Chamber on or before March 18.

Chambers of Commerce in all important cities throughout the United States are members of the United States Chamber. The referenda of the national body have accordingly been developed as the most effective means of securing the best judgment of the business world with respect to legislative matters of national interest.

The propositions now submitted for vote represent an attempt to work out standards in regard to the supervision of business by the United States government which will put an end to the confusion now existing and will apply to peace conditions the results of experience gained through common action during the war.

The argument against these recommendations is based upon doubt that the measures of coordination in industry for purposes of war can be applied during times of peace and to the further contention that attempts at a legislative definition of standards of business conduct have not as yet been demonstrated to be successful.

The matter is one of great interest since the sound development of business depends upon the working out of helpful and constructive legislation.

LEAGUE COMMITTEE WORKING HARD

With Wilson Presiding Greatest Peace Conference Problem May Not Be Solved In Time For Plenary Session.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, Feb. 5.—All possible speed is being made to get the league of nations into shape before President Wilson will be compelled to return to the United States.

The committee on the formation of the league held a meeting last night which did not come to an end until early today.

All angles of this greatest problem of the peace conference were considered. President Wilson, being the head of the committee, presided.

No official statement was issued today in view of the fact that no point was definitely settled.

The question whether a plan for the league can be reported to the plenary session of the peace conference shortly has not yet been settled.

It is known that the president frankly desires that such action be taken before his return to America. However, many delegates consider such speedy action unlikely in view of the present conditions which involves so many angles of adjustment, chief of which is whether the United States will accept mandatory powers in the near east. This is being urged here despite the fact that it is opposite to the American policy.

There was another meeting of the council of ten—representatives of the big five powers—at the foreign office today.

The territorial claims of the Czecho-Slovaks were taken up, following the demands of Greece which had taken up the attention of the conferees during the two preceding days.

LAY BUILDINGS BURN.

Saugerties Road Fire Consumed Barn, Horses and Other Stock.

All of the outbuildings on the farm of Charles Lay on the Saugerties road were destroyed by fire of an unknown origin at a little after two o'clock this morning. The destroyed property includes the three outside buildings and the large barn and their entire contents of seven horses, a cow, wagons, sleighs, chickens and a goat. The only thing saved was the touring car of Mr. Lay.

Mr. Lay stated this morning that as far as he can ascertain the fire started in the barn and gained rapid headway before discovered and spread to all of the surrounding buildings on the place except the house, which was saved through the strenuous efforts of the employes of the railroad in fighting the flames.

The call that was received by the local fire department was not answered because that out of the city district does not afford any hydrant and it would have been useless to take the trip under these conditions although the chemical truck was sent to the scene. The loss will aggregate several thousands of dollars but it is partially covered by insurance.

Church Honors Deceased Priest.

No more fitting memorial to the Rev. Michael Salley, LL. D., late rector of St. Patrick's Church, Newburgh, could have been chosen than the magnificent communion rail which has been placed in the church is now complete. The gift to the church was made by the Holy Name Society, says the Newburgh News. Dr. Salley was pastor of St. Patrick's Church for 14 years. He died a few years ago. He was at one time assistant pastor at St. Joseph's Church, this city and was well known in Kingston.

Fought Unnecessary Battle.

Very dramatic was the conclusion of the Peninsular war. Wellington had just won his triumph at Toulouse, the casualties on both sides numbering some 15,000, and the armies were rejoicing or sorrowing, when a tired courier rode up to announce that Napoleon had abdicated five days before, and the war was over.

BOYS' WORK CONFERENCE.

Proves Very Interesting to Kingston Delegates.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday there gathered at Syracuse a large body of men from all over the state of New York in the interest of boys' work in the churches which was held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. The conferences were held in the large ball room of the Onandago Hotel. Prominent men from all over the country addressed the men and practical demonstrations of boys' work was given. The boys of the churches have been much neglected and as they are the virgin gold of the future church, the churches, that sent delegates to this conference are bound to profit thereby. It was indeed a wonderful and inspiring sight to see such a large body of Christian men gathered together in one body with just one thought "the boy."

One of the most interesting speakers of the conference was Eugene C. Foster, Boys' Work Secretary of the International Committee, Y. M. C. A. His topic was "The Sunday School at Work with Boys."

A very interesting and profitable address was delivered by the Rev. Charles W. Gilkey, pastor of the Hyde Park Baptist Church of Chicago who addressed the men on "The Church's Human Foundation."

One of the most interesting sessions was the demonstration period. The Syracuse Boy Scouts gave a very instructive demonstration in scouting under the direction of Lorne W. Barclay of the National Council of Boy Scouts of America.

The Woodcraft League which was founded by Ernest Thompson Seton gave a practical demonstration of their council ring under the direction of their executive secretary Philip D. Fagans.

A very interesting lecture on Camping was given by H. W. Gibson, director of the famous camp for boys Camp Beckett, Mass. and who is also author of "Camping for Boys."

Space will not allow a full report of the convention which will long be remembered by those who attended but the conference sermon delivered by the Rev. George W. Hinckley of Hinckley, Mass., founder and supervisor of the Good Will Homes for Boys and Girls was one that will never be forgotten. The topic was "Dividends from Investment in Boyhood," and was delivered in the beautiful First Baptist Church Sunday morning.

I. H. Meredith led the singing throughout the conference. Mr. Meredith will be remembered by his many friends in Kingston as he had charge of the song services when Evangelist Tullar held revival services in Kingston some years ago. Kingston was especially honored by having S. P. Hines, boys' work secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. appointed secretary of the conference.

The delegates who attended the conference from Kingston were P. H. Carey of the Church of the Comforter, Fred Van Deusen of the Rondout Presbyterian Church, S. M. Watts of Trinity M. E. Church and S. P. Hines of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church. The Rev. W. S. Mains of Ellenville also accompanied the Kingston delegates.

ROSENDALE.

Rosendale, Feb. 5.—Don't forget the entertainment and dance in St. Peter's Hall on the evening of Feb. 12, Lincoln's Birthday, for the benefit of the church. Everybody come out and enjoy a rare treat and also help along a worthy cause.

The funeral of Andrew Smith was held from the home of his mother on Saturday afternoon and was private. The Rev. F. S. Seeley of Kingston conducted the services and Carr of Kingston was the funeral director. He is survived by his mother and one daughter, Josephine, and a sister, Mrs. Fred Four. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their double loss.

Mrs. Kate Burr of Yonkers is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Rutser Ten Hagen, on lower Main street.

There was no school in the principal's room the past week owing to the illness of the teacher, Miss Helen White.

Friends of Lloyd LeFever from Kingston spent the past Sunday with him.

Mrs. Wilbur Mohl and little Ruth, who have been spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Skinner at Poughkeepsie, returned home on Sunday.

Mrs. John Wilson of New Jersey was a guest of friends here the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ten Hagen spent the week-end with relatives at New Paltz.

Mrs. Silas Koons is confined to her home with a nervous breakdown. Dr. C. V. Hasbrouck is attending her.

The family of Frank Slater are preparing to move to their new home at Rhinebeck. Their many friends in this village hate to see them go. We trust the best of success will follow them.

ROB LEAVES WITH FIRST 1919 TOW

Tuesday afternoon the tug Rob of the Cornell Line left Rondout with a special tow, consisting of a big barge recently launched from the shipyard of Schoonmaker & Connors and consigned to New York city. The Cornell tug Bavier is bound up the river with some light boats and will be met by the Rob which will bring the Bavier's tow on up to Rondout while the Bavier will take the box on through to New York. There is open water the entire length of the Hudson river from Kingston to New York, and no difficulty whatever is expected to confront the tugs with their tows.

Towing on the Hudson river in February is rather unusual. While colder weather has been promised by the weather man practically no new ice formed on the Hudson river Tuesday night or today. Throughout the day toady a snappy wind blew, but the weather was moderate, and the temperature did not drop below the freezing point.

Weather reports for tonight prophesy a drop in the temperature

Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery.

The death of Sylvester Maxwell Taylor, of the Ellenville Journal, which occurred at his home on Warren street Monday evening, came as a great shock to his host of friends. Although it was generally known he was in very poor health it was not generally known that he was in a serious condition, having been at his desk in his office on Tuesday, Jan. 28, but it was the last visit there. Mr. Taylor familiarly known as S. M. Taylor, was born at Buckland, Franklin county, Mass. Nov. 10, 1834, on the farm of his parents and was educated in rural New England schools and in his 'teens had finished school and was at work on the farm. In 1851 he came to Ellenville to enter the office of the Journal as an apprentice with his uncle, R. Baxter Taylor who had been editor of the paper from its start in June, 1849, the proprietors being Denton & Taylor, and at the end of the year Mr. Taylor became the owner until 1857, when it passed into the hands of his nephew, S. M. Taylor. In March, 1855, Mr. Taylor went to Schuyler county, where he became editor of the Republican. He conducted the paper successfully, participating in the protracted and bitter court house war then in progress, and after a year and a half returned to Ellenville. In the early part of 1857 he became proprietor of the Journal, which he published until the fall of 1859, when he disposed of the establishment to Oliver A. Campbell. Mr. Taylor removed to Watkins, under agreement to repurchase the Republican, but through failure of the other parties to meet the conditions and his purpose was balked and he started a newspaper the Schuyler Co. Press. It was abandoned within a year and once more he returned to Ellenville to make it a permanent home. He repurchased the Journal in 1868 and in 1874 became partners with A. V. Haight and later, until 1878, was under the ownership of Trumball J. O. Fisher, F. X. Schoonmaker and Brainard G. Smith, names many newspaper men throughout Ulster county will recognize. In 1878 Mr. Taylor again resumed charge and has continued until the present time, when the Journal has for its proprietor and publisher the son, Ben F. Taylor. Mr. Taylor as editor. This well known and highly respected citizen in politics a strong Republican, a fine orator. Many of the younger generation recall hearing their parents tell of the stirring political times and of the splendid addresses delivered by the deceased. He was an active man in church affairs many years, a leader of the choir, a member of the M. E. Church, a man with a voice for singing seldom if ever equalled; for many years active in Sunday school work, serving as superintendent many terms; a man who has been greatly missed from church, Sunday school and from community singing during the past few years. All patriotic music went forward to a happy end if but Mr. Taylor could only lead in the songs. For a few years he and his family resided at Greenfield, where he was the same splendid help in church and community life. The old friends returning to the home town never missed an opportunity of paying a visit to their honored friend. The same kind greeting and hand-clasp for all. He was a man devoted to his home and family, and there he will be most sorely missed. A few years ago he was privileged to pay a visit back to his boyhood home, a pleasure that was enjoyed and a lasting memory. Mr. Taylor has passed on but to his relatives and friends there will remain a joyous memory. He was twice married. The wife of the first marriage was Miss Sarah McElhone, who died, leaving two children, Charles F. Taylor, who grew to manhood and died three years ago, and Mrs. Hattie Taylor, wife of W. W. Lambert, who survives. His second wife, to whom he was married about 45 years ago, was Mrs. Susan Hoffman Griffin, who survives with five children: Ben M. Taylor, S. Maxwell Taylor and Mrs. John H. Divine of Ellenville, Paul Taylor of Walton and Rose Taylor of Poughkeepsie. Several grandchildren also survive the honored and loved grandfather. The funeral will be held from the M. E. Church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Andrew Schriver of Chester, a former pastor of the church, is to conduct the service, and interment will take place in the Fantinekill Cemetery.

BARGAIN SENSE

May Be Acquired the Same as Anything Else.

It really is a queer thing, the amount of technical knowledge that the average man or woman is supposed to have. The doctor talks to his patients in medical terms, expecting them to understand quite all he says. The specialist in business does the same thing, and then there is often surprise expressed that the listener doesn't grasp the full idea.

Take for instance, the "Inventory Sale," now going on at the L. B. Van Wagenen store, and advertised in other parts of The Freeman. How many people have any idea of what an "Inventory Sale" is or why it is. There seems to be a general impression that it is only one of the many excuses offered for selling things a little cheaper than usual.

The real reason and object in offering to the public an "Inventory Sale" has a great many good points which when studied carefully, will reveal itself to our readers.

Once a year, every up-to-date merchant takes an account of the stock he has in his store. In so doing, he finds among other things, that some items have not sold as well as he thought they would. Perhaps this article in question has not come before the observation of the people, perhaps it is due to not being advertised or displayed so that every one who visits the store or reads the home papers could have seen or read about it; perhaps fashions may have taken a sudden change; an article of this kind goes into the "Inventory" or stock-taking sale, in order that it may not again be accounted for.

Again any kind of wearing apparel comes in sizes, which at certain times, one size might be more in demand than others, thus leaving the merchant with certain groups which are just as good as the others in style, but do not happen to be the size in demand.

While other cut-priced sales throughout the year may specialize on certain fancy articles, the "Inventory Sale" is almost always a sale of needed, useful and excellent articles, on which it means more for the merchant to regain his money, than it does to carry over the scattered stock to make a little profit.

The proof of the truth of this little sales preachment will be at once realized, when one glances over the articles to be sold this week at the L. B. Van Wagenen store, and further considers what they are being sold for. It is always the very best judgement to attend an "Inventory Sale" at any store as reliable as the Van Wagenen Company.

TRIANGLES WIN PURSE.

By Beating Rexals of Saugerties At Basketball.

The Triangle quintet of this city Tuesday night defeated the Rexals of Saugerties in one of the prettiest games of basketball ever staged and returned with a purse of $50.00 and another victory to their credit. Saugerties displayed a stubborn determined grit and played an excellent game, but could not overcome the efficient pass work of the Triangles. The large appreciative audience that witnessed the contest indicated the desire for good basketball in that town. At times the excitement was intense and brought almost every spectator to their feet.

The game was in progress for some time without either side scoring when finally Dolson dropped in a sinker followed by Peters scoring a field goal for the opponents. Dolson soon scored several field goals followed by Smith dropping a sinker, and Kingston held the lead throughout the game winning by a score of 30 to 18.

George Kaufman a former graduate of Kingston Academy and Cornell University refereed the game and pleased all by his fair decisions. C. F. Gentner acted as umpire, O. E. Teal official scorer and Mr. Carman, timekeeper. Dancing followed the game. Many Kingston people were present.

Chester Dolson showed his skill and ability and amazed the audience by the efficient manner in which he caged the ball with apparent ease. The line up and individual score: Saugerties—C. Styles forward (3); Peters forward (12); Granwehr, center; Keeley, guard (4); S. Styles, guard.

Triangles—Dolson, forward (16); Wheeler, forward (6); Johnson, center (5); Robins, guard (1); Smith, guard (4); Palisi, guard.

In a preliminary game Sweeney's Midgets defeated the Mystics by a score of 21 to 24.

Antiquity of Gloves.

Gloves are of great antiquity, having been worn in England as long ago as in Saxon times. Practically the only change which there has ever been in styles of gloves has been in their decoration. Sometimes they were richly adorned with jewels, it having been paid for a pair in the fourteenth century.

Like as Not: Like as Not.

As children we used to think that the sardines came from Sardinia. Now Maine runs and sends out $10,000,000 worth a year, and claims there are no better ones on the market. We suppose the olive oil the fish are packed in comes from Mississippi or South Carolina.—Brooklyn Eagle.

KINGSTON, N. Y., FEB. 5, 1919.

The plight of the New Paltz dairymen who were so weak as to indulge in a sympathetic strike should be a warning not only to those who are now concerned but to the Dairymen's League in general. Strikes are not won unless the public is convinced of their justice and the public never has been convinced of the justice of the sympathetic strike. Thus far the Dairymen's League has been in the right, and however much the New York distributors and their catspaws, the New York newspapers, may have misrepresented the facts, it has had the support of an enlightened and thinking public. Therefore it has won. But like all associations to procure justice without recourse to law and by means outside the law, the League stands in an ever growing danger of grasping for profit that is not just. The comparative ease with which it has obtained things it was entitled to is likely to cause the unscrupulous to reason that higher prices, regardless of their justice, are merely a matter of united action. The Dairymen's League must be on guard in future against the element in its own membership that will urge it to go beyond justice and into extortion. This is no reflection on the character of the League or its members—merely an assertion that they are human and, for their own ultimate good, must watch for and forestall that pride which goeth before a fall.

Monomania resulting from too intense specializing on one particular question is not confined to those whose mission is exterminating the Demon Rum. For instance, Our Dumb Animals, the magazine of the Humane Society, demands that the American Red Cross instantly discipline the cruel and wicked Chapter in Colorado that accepted $50 earned by two children by trapping prairie dogs and making soap of the fat extracted from the pests, and also insists that Boy Scouts who have been helping save farm crops by shooting prairie dogs be compelled to desist. That not only do prairie dogs destroy food in process of being grown for human consumption, but that the work of the girls was a demonstration in practical conservation as well as charity, and the work of the Boy Scouts of a nature that will fit them to defend civilization, should such defense ever again become necessary, is entirely lost sight of by the Humane Society in its sympathy for pestiferous animals that are of not the slightest use or value. Strange what idiocies an utter loss of the sense of proportion will lead well-meaning people into.

Perfection is a thing to strive for, but when not attained, and it never is attained, we should not be too greatly discouraged or down-hearted. If we have accomplished 90 per cent of the result aimed at there is most excellent reason to continue the work. It is only untruthful assertions that perfection has been attained that will or should cause us to lose confidence and abandon the campaign. For his manly admissions of mistakes and incompetency in certain details of Y. M. C. A. War Work, Secretary Thornberry will retain the respect of all who read his letter in The Freeman on Tuesday. Had similar, frank admissions been made at once by others, the comparatively negligible failures of the organization would not have been magnified and distorted as they have been. As it is, the enormous amount of good work done is being obscured by the very small amount of failure, which is unfair and unjust. Secretary Thornberry's letter should go far toward readjusting local views of the Y. M. C. A. He puts the case well, clearly and honestly. Let us have two sides to the account and give the Y. M. C. A. credit for its work accomplished as well as charge it for its mistakes. When the balance is struck no fair-minded person will regret the support he gave to the association in its work or feel justified in slackening that support in future. No true American refused to buy Liberty Bonds because he did not aprove of everything the Government did.

Secretary of War Baker approves of Colonel Deeds, whose shortcomings were so great that Judge Hughes, who investigated the airplane scandal, recommended him for court martial. The Secretary's ground for approval of the colonel, whose deeds were in name only, seems to be based on the strength of the gallant colonel's imagination which, Mr. Baker says, "Peopled the sky with airplanes" — imaginary ones — but failed deliver the real ones. General Crowder, who peopled the camps in America and France with 3,000,000 fighting men, not imaginary but real, has been reprimanded by one of Secretary Baker's underlings for being over-zealous. Imagination rather than action seems to be the thing in favor with the Administration.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"You say you worship me? When do you do it?" "Dearest, in my idol moments."—Baltimore American.

First poet—"Heard a jolly good compliment on your 'Daffodils' yesterday, old chap." Second poet—"Indeed?" First—"Yes. Fellow asked me if I wrote it."—Boston Transcript.

Lawyer—"I can't tell just now whether you should plead guilty or not." Prisoner—"Why not?" "Well, it depends upon circumstances." "Well, what I would like to know, just for my own curiosity, is whether I committed the crime or not."—Life.

"Why sir!" exclaimed the exacting person, "in the course of your remarks you mispronounced several words." "Hear me, friend," responded Senator Sorghum. "In these days if a man uses only words he knows how to pronounce there isn't a chance of his being able to keep up with the war situation."—Washington Star.

"Will you give me some advice?" asked the youthful candidate. "Why, certainly, my boy," answered the veteran campaigner. "The first thing for you to learn is that you can't feel the public pulse by listening to what men say just after the drinks and cigars have been passed around."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

An Irresistible Attraction.

"It would save us much needed floor space and considerable money if more of our women customers would use the stairway when going up only one flight," said the department store manager. "I wish I knew of some way to make 'em do it."

"Why not take the mirrors out of the elevators and put 'em on the stairs?" suggested his bright assistant.—Buffalo Express.

Too Big a Handicap

Two small boys, who had grown weary of their game, were arguing rather heatedly regarding a new form of amusement. At last one of them was struck with a sudden inspiration, and said to the other: "I know! Let's see who can make the ugliest face." "Gowan!" replied his chum. "What d'yuh mean by it? Look what a start you've got."—Exchange.

The Makers.

Booth Tarkington, the novelist, met in a New York book store a young woman who was buying books to send to the soldiers.

"I think I ought to send them serious, heavy books—history and so on—don't you?" She doubtfully inquired.

"Good gracious, no!" said Mr. Tarkington. "Send the novels, rousing novels, and nothing else. History? What do they want with history. Why, they're making it!"—Exchange.

In a Nutshell.

Dr. Henry Miller Turner, professor of chemistry at Tarkio University, was lecturing on Germany.

"The food substitutes that German chemistry has devised," he said, "are staggering. Coffee from acorns, bread from wood, soup from seaweed, fodder from bodies—Germany has devised no less than 8,000 food substitutes."

Dr. Turner smiled.

"This proves clearly to us," he said, "that all's fare in war."—Exchange.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Mrs. T. D. Lewis and Mrs. Fessenden will be the hostesses of Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R., at the regular monthly meeting Thurday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the chapter house. Mrs. Louis Basten and Mrs. Fred Gallagher will have charge of the program. The board will meet at 2 o'clock.

One more week of eager anticipation remains for the local dancers and the realization of their thoughts and preparations will not have been in vain for on next Tuesday evening St. Mary's Hall will be the scene of one of the most talked about social affairs ever attempted in this city. The private subscription dance that all activities have been centered on for the past two months is now declared an assured success, settling many an anxiety upon the part of the large number of intended patrons. It has been surprising the number of subscriptions that have been paid in by out-of-town society folks. Just a touch of the "feel-at home" spirt will greatly add to tne delightfulness of the occision and then you know that nothing delights one more than to have an opportunity of greeting friends from out of town. The headliner of the many features of this affair will be the music under the guiding eye of the popular "Curt" Shurter. It is a little uncertain just what "Curt" will produce on this evening but it is depndable that it will be something out of the ordinary in dance and concert music. Punch will lead the refreshment bill of fare and Theron Mowers will remain in attendance to see that nothing is lacking after each dance. For your diary, "St. Mary's Hall, Tuesday evening, February 11."

A Birthday Surprise.

A number of relatives and friends attended a delightful surprise party Monday evening, February 3, at 27 Franklin street, in honor of Mrs. Gertrude Burger, it being her 81st birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eckert, Mr. and Mrs. Matthias Burger, Jr., and son, Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Burger and son, Johnnie, Mrs. Mary E. Burger, Miss Lavina Buzger, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Smith, Mr. and Mrs. David Slover, Mr. and Mrs. William Fox and daughter, Marguerite, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burger and sons, Edwin and Francis, Matthias Burger, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. John Rappleyea, Mr. and Mrs. James Burger, Mr. and Mrs. William Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Craver, Mrs. Angeline Roosa, Mrs. Rachel Wein, Mrs. George Terwilliger, the Misses Minnie Murdock, Maud Burger, Leola Bell, Earline Barnes, Florence Rappleyea, Messrs. Harold Murdock, Noah Burger and William Burger. Mrs. Burger received a number of useful and dainty presents.

Surprise for Corporal Schwenk.

A most enjoyable party was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Schwenk on Ten Broeck avenue. The affair was arranged as a surprise welcome party in honor of their son, Corporal Fred Schwenk who was discharged from the U. S. army a few days ago after a service of nearly two years. By a cleverly arranged plan the corporal was invited to dine at the home of friends uptown. On his return home early in the evening he found the house filled with friends among whom were several members of the fair sex. To say that he was surprised is putting it mildly. However he soon recovered his composure. The evening was spent in listening to music, vocal and instrumental, a leading feature of which was the singing of Albert Salzmann, another recently returned soldier. Also in playing games and dancing. At twelve o'clock the entire party sat down to a bounteous midnight supper, after which dancing was resumed until wee sma' hours. The corporal is justly proud of the sincere tribute of esteem shown by his many friends and they will also long remember the hospitality shown by this patriotic family.

Spencer's Business School Notes.

Miss Stella Ketterson, a graduate of the shorthand department, has obtained a permanent position as law stenographer with Lackey & Dibbell, attorneys at law, Tannersville, N. Y.

Miss Rissa DePuy, of the combined course, has been located in a good office position, serving as bookkeeper and assistant, with Cornell & Decker, flour and feed, Stamford, N. Y.

Miss Teresa Sharfield, an honor graduate of Spencer's School, has obtained a desirable position as stenographer and typist with The War Chest, Syracuse, N. Y.

Miss Emily Bartsch, an experienced graduate of the shorthand department, has been placed in a permanent position as law stenographer with Counselor Alfed Van Buren, John street, this city.

Miss Babetta Hadash, of the stenographic department, has obtained a permanent situation as stenographer and typist with Claflin, Thayer & Co., Reade street, New York city.

Miss Florence Goble, who completed a partial course at Spencer's School, has obtained a very fine position as typist and office assistant in the collector of internal revenue office, Albany, N. Y.

Miss Lillian Kaplan, a graduate in stenography, has secured a temporary position as stenographer and typist in the office of Jenkins & Shufeldt, lawyers, Fair street, this city.

Several positions out of the city have recently been offered to the school, but were allowed to pass because of no available graduates to accept them. There are plenty of positions for Spencer's graduates, and often times the best are found in villages and cities nearby. The school being so widely known, business men from far and near ask for its well trained graduates.

The new quarters soon to be occupied by the school will be very attractive and convenient. The exterior and interior of the building from basement to attic will take on a new appearance, as the owner, Mr. Forman, expects to spend several thousand dollars in making it one of the most up to date structures in the city. When located in the new place, Spencer's School will enjoy the distinction of being one of the best fitted and best equipped business training schools in the United States. Many inquiries are already being made as to the location and facilities.

Work for Homemakers.

The homemaker should be as alert to make progress in her life work as the business or professional man. The most profitable, the most interesting study for women is the home, for in it centers all the issues of life.

Dare to Turn Back.

It often requires courage to turn back when we have taken a wrong step, but it is easier to turn back after the first step than after the second or third, and much safer and pleasanter.

INDUSTRIAL HOME ANNUAL REPORT

Shows Building In First Class Condition—Commendation For Generosity of Public and Doctors Toward 65 Inmates Cared For.

To the Friends of the Industrial Home:

It affords the managers pleasure to make the annual report for the year 1918.

Once again we turn to look back over the past year and record the principal events in the life of the Industrial Home.

While each year brings its advance over the preceding one, this has been one of marked improvement in equipment and plant.

For some time there has been need of many improvements at the Home, but for lack of funds they could not be made. Through the generous legacy of Mrs. Elting Anderson, who was one of the Board of Managers and always a warm friend of the Home, and who, while yet living, expressed a wish that the improvements be made, one half of the amount bequeathed has been used to place the building outside and inside in first class condition. Electric lights have been installed throughout the building, walls have been redecorated, marbleoid floors replaced the much-worn wooden ones and several modern conveniences added. The building has been practically refurnished throughout, including a well-equipped hospital on the third floor, the expense of which was borne by J Graham Rose, John D. Schoonmaker, D. N. Mathews and W. H Van Slyke of the Board of Trustees. The nursery has been entirely refurnished by Mrs. Philip Elting, in memory of her mother, Mrs. Ridenour, and is most attractive and modern in all of its furnishings, with everything necessary for the comfort and happiness of a little child; also a marbleoid floor was placed in the nursery bath room. The furniture for the building was purchased at cost through the generosity of Stock & Cordts. We feel that in equipment and management, we have an institution second to none in the state.

The managers are deeply grateful to Mr. Rose, under whose personal supervision the entire work was done.

At the beginning of the year there were 44 children in the Home, twenty-one during the year, making a total of sixty-five cared for, twenty-six have been dismissed during the year, some being adopted into families, some returning to their parents, leaving 39 in the Home at the present time.

The health of the children has been unusually good, with but a few cases of serious illness, and no epidemic. Dr. Mambert and his assistants, Drs. Connelly, Gillett, Ingalls, Norwood, O'Meara, Stern and Vrooman, have been faithful and willing, giving of their time and talent when needed.

Drs. Nelson and Gates serve as throat and eye specialists. Drs. Cragin and his assistants Drs Elshop, Behrens, Carter, Chipp, Cragan, Hill, Henry, Meinhardt and Miller have cared for the children's teeth, over one hundred fillings having been made during the year. A new library has been added for the benefit of the children, also a subscription for St. Nicholas, and a bird magazine.

A very pleasant affair occurred at the Home in December, when the public was invited to inspect the improvements made. Although the day was a stormy one, a goodly number came and seemed delighted with what they saw. Light refreshments were served by the managers, which the children helped in serving from a prettily decorated tea table. The affair was enjoyed by all, as much by the children as the grown-ups.

The people of the city have shown their usual generosity and interest in the Home throughout the year, and especially at the holiday season. Farmers sent vegetables, schools, churches and organizations of all kinds sent contributions, either of money or supplies

We wish to thank these friends and all others who have helped in this way to carry on the good work. We wish also to thank Miss Mary Lacy, Mrs Chauncey Smith and Mrs Carl Flicker for making a rag carpet, also the Binnewater Lake Ice Co. for furnishing free ice.

We wish to express our appreciation of the services of Virgil Van Wagonen, always willingly given. Miss Russell, the matron, and her assistants, deserve much praise for the capable management of affairs, seeking always the best interests of the little folks. Surely the good influence which children receive here will follow them throughout their lives

The state inspector, in her annual report, speaks of the home thus: The greatest impression you receive of this institution is in its complete environment, which is that of a happy, comfortable congenial home."

Again we wish to thank all who have helped in any way in making this so successful a year. With calls coming in daily for help from all sides, it is surprising how generously our people still remember the needs of the Home. As we recount our blessings, they bear witness that the Christ spirit has entered the hearts of mankind. Respectfully submitted,

MRS D G. ATKINS
Corresponding Secretary

Kingston, N Y January 15 1919

Jan 2 1919

To the Board of Managers Industrial Home.

The usual monthly inspection required by law has been made and the necessary examinations on admission and discharge from the Quarantine Cottage have also called at the Home many times by invitation of the superintendent. In the spring the attending physician assisted by myself administered protective serum to 13 children who had not had measels, as a preventative as two cases had developed. Not another case occurred and we thought our precautions eminently successful. Fortunately the virus did not appear in October but waited until doctor and nurse had more time in January. We had one patient with diphtheria in October (that busy month) but considered we were fortunate in having only one. We had a nurse in constant attendance, until two negative cultures were reported, with strict separation from the rest of the family.

We also had during the year one scarlatina and eighteen measles.

We had sixty-seven cases of illness, some very serious, some very mild, with 314 calls from the doctors; also 14 surgical cases (tonsils and adenoids removed) and some minor defects corrected; all of which appear in the supplemented and statistical report attached.

The following dental work was was done: 102 teeth filled, 11 teeth extracted, 8 teeth cleaned. Total, 121.

The medical staff consists of the following, each serving one month, repeating when the list is finished: Drs. D. Connelly, Gillett, Ingalls, Norwood, O'Meara, Stern, Vrooman. In addition the following serve as eye, ear, nose and throat specialists: Drs. Nelson, Loughran, Gates and Cranston. During the absence of Drs. Loughran and Cranston, Drs. Nelson and Gates serve in their stead.

The dental staff is as follows: Dr. C. B. Cragin, chief of staff: Drs. Behrens, Carter, Chipp, A. M. Cragin, Henry, Hill, Meinhardt, Miller.

One mentally deficient child was placed in the institution at Rome, N. Y.

It is appropriate to commend the doctors and dentists for their fine care of the children, and also to remind them of the saying, quoted by Secretary Atkins in closing her report of last year: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these ye have done it unto me."

The changes in the home since last year are great. Decorations, furnishings, lighting, etc., most of which render it more sanitary and hygienic. Trustees and managers deserve praise.

A. H. MAMBERT, M. D.,
Chief of Staff.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, Feb. 5.—Dr. Fred Deming will preach in the Methodist Church next Sunday morning.

The net proceeds from the excellent supper given by the Ladies' Aid Society on Jan. 28th amounted to somewhat over $33.

Preparations for the entertainment to be given on the evening of Washington's Birthday, under the auspices of the Builders' Class of the M. E. Sunday school, are proceeding. One feature of the entertainment will be a two act play, entitled "Camp Keep-off." Other features of the entertainment will be made known later. Look out for them. This will be one of the best entertainments of the season.

A large audience was present at the Grange Hall on Wednesday evening, January 29, to listen to Captain Louis De La Verane tell of his experiences "Across Seas," and also to Chester Young, who talked on re-construction work. Both speakers were listened to with deep attention. Harry Palen also sang a solo.

Business meeting of the C. E. Society at the home of Mrs. Milton Hammond Friday evening, Feb. 1, for the purpose of making arrangements for sewing for the annual fair. All members are asked to be present at 7:30

Capt. Roscoe North, who has been spending a short furlough at his home on Main street, has returned to camp.

Saved to Some Effect.

In Greenville, N. H., a man who believes in saving coppers and nickels paid his taxes with $1995 in Buffalo nickels, $11.80 in old-style nickels, $6 in Lincoln cents and Indian-head cents. Buying a heifer, nearly two, at auction, he paid for it in coppers, and he also paid $27 in cents for a purchase made away from home.

Tired out? Hard day's work? A glass of Borden's on the way home refreshes and satisfies. All fountains. Insist on Borden's—always. It's the improved Malted Milk.

Borden's
THE IMPROVED
MALTED MILK

NEW PALTZ MILK FLOOD.

There's Lots of It But No Place to Sell It.

Notwithstanding the fact that the milk strike has been satisfactorily settled, the milk producers of New Paltz and vicinity have not yet resumed the shipment of milk to the New York market, and according to the present outlook there seems to be no chance that such shipments will be resumed within the next month, thus entailing a loss to the farmers hereabouts of about $500 a day.

The local branch of the Dairymen's League of New Paltz was not really affected by the strike, because members of the branch own their own creamery and had a contract with the Waddington Condensed Milk Company of New York, an independent concern which was paying the league prices. However when a number of dairymen from Wallkill, Gardiner and Modena came to New Paltz during the last days of the strike protested that New Paltz milk was ultimately pooled and this being used to break the strike, the New Paltz milk producers decided to enter the strike simply out of sympathy.

A few days later the strike ended, but the Waddington Condensed Milk Company, contending that the New Paltz farmers had broken their contract, demanded a payment of $500 damages before it would accept any more milk. The Dairymen's League held several meetings discussing this proposition, with the result that the offer was turned down.

The climax was reached Saturday when the Waddington Condensed Milk Company returned to the local branch of the Dairymen's League the lease for the local creamery. This action eliminates the New York concern from the controversy and the farmers are now seeking a new market for their milk.

The direct result of this trouble is the flooding of the community with milk. Many of the farmers are making butter and pot cheese, but the milk accumulates so fast that it is impossible for them to use the supply. An average of 65 cans a day had been shipped out of New Paltz before the strike and many of the farmers are now feeding their milk to the stock in order to get rid of it.

ESOPUS.

Esopus, Feb. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Gardner of Ulster Park were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Best on Sunday last.

Louis C. Goodrich went to New York city on Saturday evening to meet some friends, who very much wished to see him and hear all about his experiences during his stay overseas. He gave about 17 months' hard service to the war and all his friends have reason to be proud of his record.

Miss Helen Cole received a letter from Mrs. Theodore Traver, of the Isle of Pines, Cuba, last week, in which she inquires after, and wishes to be remembered to her former neighbors and friends in this village. Also says she greatly enjoys the Esopus news in the Kingston Semi-Weekly Freeman, because she now knows what is going on all the while. The influenza has visited the island and nearly everyone there has had it, but so far only three deaths. Mrs. Traver was very ill with it, but has now recovered. There has been an unusual number of rain storms, and the cool, cloudy weather is a hindrance to the proper development of most of their vegetables, except celery, and that just seems to jump every day. Of this they lost over 200 young plants on account of the wet weather. They have nice strawberries, which they are selling for 35 cents per quart; new Irish potatoes, string beans, turnips, beets and carrots. Potatoes sell for 5½ cents per pound, flour is scarce and sells for 19½ cents per pound. No corn meal or cereals of any kind for two years, and coffee has just advanced 16 cents on a pound. They had only one orange tree left after the terrible fire which swept their grove about two years ago) but that supplies their personal needs and the tangerines are fine. Grape fruit sells for $15 a box, and but for the fire they would have sold hundreds of dollars worth, probably. But Mrs. Traver philosophically says, "Well, they're gone and there's no use crying." We are sure that Mr. and Mrs. Traver's friends will be glad to hear that they are well and will wish to send their kind regards to them through these columns.

Laughter.

"Laughter is man's own attribute," says Rabelais, and from the time man began to think of other matters than eating and waging war he has wooed laughter in some form or other according to his idea of what is comical. The early pictured jokes on canvas, stone and paper are not conducive to wild hilarity at this day and age, but they amused the people of the time and in making men laugh helped to civilize the race.

IN THE REALM OF NEW MUSIC

POPULAR SONGSTEEM WITH THOUGHTS OF RETURNING SOLDIERS

Instrumental gems and fascinating ballads among the new interpretations by the world's greatest artists

ALL America opens its arms to receive our boys back home again; and to punctuate our expressions of joy on their return it is fitting that we should use the medium of song, thereby giving emphasis to our greetings in the most natural and spontaneous way.

Starting with the moment our troops leave foreign soil on the home stretch Irving Berlin has made a song to fit the boys' own mouths in the nature of a fond farewell. "Good-bye France" is the title, and the Peerless Quartet shows, on a new Victor Record, how it should be sung. It is, of course, a brisk march tune, and there are several familiar melodies interpolated that give it a real American "home" flavor.

On the reverse of the record the same quartet sings "The Navy Will Bring Them Back." "Lest we forget" is a sentiment rung into it as a timely reminder of the Navy's part. The words were written by Yoeman Howard Johnson, U. S. N. who is surely the one to do it.

A logical sequence to the thought of these songs is this one sung by James and Shannon on a Victor Record just issued—"Mother, Here's Your Boy." It pays a well-deserved tribute to the part the American mothers have played in surrendering their sons so gladly to the call of duty. In bright march time it sounds a cheerful note, reminding us that the boys are already on their way back. Between the verses a strain from Pike's "Home Again" is appropriately heard.

A companion piece is found on the other side of the record in "Watch, Hope and Wait, Little Girl," sung by Charles Hart. It is an optimistic letter from a soldier to his best girl telling her to cheer up, for his work is finished, and he'll soon be home. The sentiment is accompanied by a lively march tune, with bells which give a delightful effect.

With a new and pointed significance for many at present, that old-time song, "Bring Back My Bonnie to Me" is sung by Alma Gluck on a new Victrola Record. And who could sing it with more telling effect? Alma Gluck has a unique facility for reaching the heart with these old-time ballads that are so very dear to us. The refrain of the melody is repeated by the Orpheus Quartet which adds to the charm of the rendition.

* * *

Harry Lauder in a burst of enthusiasm!

The joyous spontaneous spirit of that day of days last November when the armistice was signed, has been captured in song by the one man who could do it in a way to reach the hearts of all men. Harry Lauder presents it on a new Victor Record, entitled—"Don't Let Us Sing About War Any More, Just Let Us Sing of Love." It is a cheerful march song, and you can almost hear the tramp of the soldiers' feet as they come trooping triumphantly home. The merry bells in the accompaniment, the whistles, the drum-beats re-echo the noise of the streets on Peace-Day; but above all is the ringing sincerity, the passionate gratitude, that animates the big-hearted Scotch comedian. He really expresses your own fervor and thankfulness as you could never hope to express them yourselves.

Those who look to a song for the expression of tender emotion will find what they desire in Tosti's "Could I" as sung by DeGogorza on a new Victrola Record. Here the most exquisite sentiment is revealed with rare insight by this artist who has the susceptibility of a poet combined with rare vocal technique.

The Flonzaley Quartet—the most famous string quartet in the world—presents a jolly little Irish folk-song on a Victrola Record just issued. "Molly on the Shore." Those for whom the words "chamber music" have an austere sound will rejoice to hear this noted quartet rollicking in the gay measures of an Irish folk-song. It almost leads one to hope that chamber music is coming back to its own, for it may be said to have begun with the cheery folk-dances for string orchestra with which Bach so gloriously enriched us.

Geraldine Farrar interprets this month on a new Victrola Record, a song that was dedicated to her. The "Boat Song" has a simple, tender melody. It is evidently a favorite with Farrar, and her singing of it reveals the tender side of an artist who in the realm of Grand Opera has shown she can run the gamut of human emotions. Aside from the sentiment of the song it reveals in the singer a suave mastery of the art of singing sustained melody with perfect tonal quality throughout.

Dixieland Jass Band—the dancers' delight

Two wonderful dance numbers, played by that Original Dixieland Jazz Band appear this month on a new Victor Record. The "Clarinet Marmalade Blues" is a one-step, and on the reverse of the record is "Mournin' Blues," a fox-trot. The "Marmalade" affair is well named, for the composers had something worth preserving—a crazy raggy bunch of sounds that rattle along like a circus in a hurry. The "Mournin' Blues" is calculated to draw nothing more serious than the kind of tears that crocodiles are won't to shed.

Two other one-steps are played by that favorite dance orchestra—Joseph C. Smith's—on a new Victor Record. "Oh! Frenchy Medley" introduces "Goodbye Alexander" and "After You've Gone" together with occasional snatches from some favorites of other days. "Me-Ow," on the reverse of the record, is a lively character piece just full of "pep" from start to finish. The interpolated "me-ows" from members of the orchestra and the busy chatter of violins should make it a great favorite.

A new Victor artist comes into the limelight! Vernon Dalhart makes his bow with a plantation song on a Victor Record, "Rock-a-Bye Your Baby With a Dixie Melody." It is a cheery heartfelt little melody—a darky song of a "rolling stone" who has gone back home to his mammy to be put to bed in the old style. Mr. Dalhart produces a new effect at the repetition of the refrain by humming the tune. This song has made a big hit at the Winter Garden Show, "Sinbad."

On the other side of the record the Sterling Trio sings "The Pickaninny's Paradise." It is a darky sleep-song, which paints a cunning picture of a far-away land where the streets are payed with gold, where every fleeting bird has diamonds for eyes, and every kinky-headed boy and girl plays with a pony of real silver. The refrain is repeated as a violin duet, and the harmony is very rich.

Galli-Curci, that charming colorature soprano of the highest order, gives expression to a fresh, delightful song "La Capinera" (The Wren).

It is light as air and fragrant with the breath of early spring. Indeed on first hearing one is apt to lose sight of the brilliant vocal display, the lilting staccato, the even, velvety tone quality, the perfect control and absolute clarity in even the most rapid of its darting phrases. The final crescendo on a high note comes as a fitting climax to a song that is as interesting from a technical vocal standpoint as it is charming in a poetic way.

* * *

Sentimental songs you will want to hear

Harry Macdonough adds another to his long list of songs on Victor Records. The latest is "It's Never Too Late To Be Sorry," being a frank apology on the part of a man whose sincerity is not to be doubted.

On the reverse of the record Henry Burr sings "Don't Cry, Little Girl, Don't Cry," which tells us it is better to be brave at parting, for a time always comes when dreams of future happiness are realized no matter how remote the time may seem to be. The song has a delightful waltz refrain.

Two excellent tenors, Charles Hart and Lewis James, are heard to advantage on a new Victor Record, in "Till We Meet Again." This song contains some exquisite harmony. The smooth and even flow of melody is sustained throughout, and the sentiment of the song is that of lovers' meetings, and marriage bells, which are, of course, provided in the accompaniment.

On the other side of the record the Sterling Trio sings, "Have a Smile for Everyone You Meet, And They Will Have a Smile for You." It is a song of optimism whose music bears out the cheery sentiment of the title. The interweaving of a solo violin part with the male voices of the Trio is particularly effective.

Billy Murray is in his element with a cheerful ditty which he sings on a Victor Record just issued, "The Worst is Yet to Come." Everybody will enjoy it except his ex-majesty, William Hohenzollern. It is that amazing blend of gay humor and grim earnest which is so typically American, and so incomprehensible to minds of the Junker mould.

Another song is on the reverse of the record, which fits Billy Murray equally well. "Can You Tame Wild Women?" is its title. It is the story of Jan Augustus Henpeck Brown, who went to the circus and watched the lion-tamer do his stunt, and figured that a man who could "make a mule stand on his head" might do something to tame his wife. Between the verses Billy imitates the circus "barker" to perfection.

A treat is surely in store for those who hear Jascha Heifetz, that young wizard of the violin, play "Moto Perpetuo" on a new Victrola Record just issued. His playing of it is a veritable marvel of perfection. Paganini, the author of this composition, who was himself a great violinist, would have found in Heifetz a keen rival, had he been a contemporary. Heifetz is inexhaustible! That is the impression you get as the twittering notes fly by without cessation through the whole length of the piece, always with the same glittering staccato, the same unerring accuracy as to pitch, the same silvery quality of tone.

And so the enjoyment of music, from the great masterpieces interpreted by the world's greatest artists down to the latest hits and popular melodies, is the privilege of everyone in this day of the Victrola. Even if you are not the happy possessor of this well-spring of pleasure you need not be deprived of hearing the music of your choice, for any Victor dealer will gladly play the new music or favorite selections any time you visit his store and request it.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 5.—The feature of the early trading in the stock market was the heaviness in the copper stocks, which were pressed for sale with American Smelting dropping one point to 69¼ and substantial losses were sustained in Utah, Anaconda and Inspiration. The leading stocks sold off in the early trading with later rallies. Marine Preferred sold down ⅜ to 95⅞ and then advanced to 96, and United States Steel after dropping ⅜ to 89⅞, rallied to 90⅛. Mexican Petroleum sold down 1⅞ to 166½ and then rallied to 167½. Railroad stocks were quiet and without material change.

Most interest during the forenoon was concentrated in the copper issues, nearly all of which were under pressure and sustained losses of from 1 to 6 points. American Smelter, after opening one point lower at 69¼, broke to 66⅛ on the announcement of the reduction of the dividend. Outside of the copper issues the market showed a fairly strong tone. Tobacco Products was active, moving up over one point to 79⅞, while United Cigar Stores rose 1¼ to 114¾. Marine Preferred moved up from 95⅞ to 97¼. The steel shares were firm, United States Steel rallying ½ to 90⅝.

The market closed heavy; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds heavy.

FOR A PRETTY LIGHT SCREEN

Peacock Feathers Figure Conspicuously in Formation of Artistic Decoration for Tables.

You can't be superstitious and artistic at the same time, or else you will have to forego the pleasure of using one of the gorgeous peacock feathers in the prettiest light screen you ever saw. These small screens, which are being stood on tables to shade the eyes from a lamp, or hung from side wall brackets for the same purpose, can be made from embroidery hoops. The screen that used the feather had a piece of dull blue silk caught between the hoops on the under side, and over this was curled the long length of feather au naturel. On the upper side of the hoops was a layer of gold net. The hoops themselves were treated to a coat of old gold paint.

When this screen is placed before the light you can imagine the effect that the gold and peacock colorings give.

SOME OF THE POPULAR FURS

Seal and Moleskin Continue to Hold First Place—Muskrat Dyed or in Natural Color.

The long-tailed monkey and the spotted tiger may or may not be in fashion, but the humble muskrat always has the entree into good circles. If fads are the order of the day, it may show itself undyed in its natural color, but by its side will be shown plain old-fashioned sealskin, dark and velvety. For it's not the kind of fur so much as the way it is used, and this is the reason that sealskin and moleskin are always in demand. No fur can be draped with better results than these, and few as well, says a writer in the New York Herald.

The sealskin scarf, long and wide, after a few months of disuse, has come back into the best of society as well received as ever. The coat of seal also continues to be worn for it has appeared in some of the most attractive models and would be hard to resist.

HAT-MUFF-AND-COLLAR SETS

Neckwear Considered by American Women as Distinctive Item of the Fashionable Wardrobe.

American women have learned to value neckwear as a distinctive item in the wardrobe. Paris taught them this. But they have not yet learned the value of these hat-muff-and-collar sets, the winter "fixings" that render the same service to a simple costume that beautiful neckwear accessories do in summer time.

Paris sets great store by these dainty for "fixings," but somehow or other very few of them seem to find a way to this country and the few that do come are snapped up immediately and remain but a brief time in the shops.

Several of the cap-muff-and-collar sets are of sealskin. One cannot help suspecting that many a good sealskin coat of, say, three seasons ago style, has been cut up to make a smart three-piece set for this winter. Most of the seal sets have scarfs or stoles instead of a round collar, and the fur scarf is worn with ends pulled down under a seal belt to match.

Cotton Gears.

Cotton which has been put under hydraulic pressure of from 6000 to 8,000 pounds and made into gears, produces an article superior to that made of steel. Softer than steel, the cotton gear yields where the steel gear wears under friction.

Baby Picture Blocks Estate.

Just a little cheap photograph of a baby with curly locks, blue eyes and a broad brimmed sailor hat is holding up the probate of the will of Frederick Thompson, a former well-known Poughkeepsie fish dealer, who saved up a fortune of nearly $50,000. Just who the picture represents is unknown but it is thought he is a grandson whom the dead fish dealer never saw. The case came up in surrogate's court, Poughkeepsie, Monday, and although almost the entire estate was left to the wife there are a number of relatives who want to share in it. The widow is represented by Robert G. Groves of this city. The hearing was adjourned for one week until facts can be ascertained.

KERESMAN IS WELL.

Private Peter Keresman is Member of 51st Pioneers in Germany.

Max Hazen of No. 19 Broadway has just received a letter from Private Peter Keresman of Company F, 51st Pioneer Infantry, now in Germany. Private Keresman was formerly employed in Frank P. Quigley's hotel on lower Broadway, and is well known throughout the city. He writes that the army is a great life, and it was little he thought a year or two ago that he would be in Germany putting up at a German hotel and sleeping on a feather bed. He states he would not exchange his experience for a whole lot. He writes that he had received two letters from Edward Weber on January 7th, and that he wrote he was well and said he was glad he was in the army as it had been a great experience for him. In closing Private Keresman wished to be remembered to all his friends. His letter is dated January 4, 1919.

Wasted Patience.

He was a green Scottish lad, and one of his duties was to answer the telephone. When first called on to do so, in reply to the usual query: "Are you there?" he nodded assent. Again the question came and again and yet again, and each time the boy gave the answering nod. When the question came for the fifth time, however, the boy, losing his temper, roared through the transmitter: "Man, are ye blin'? I've been noddin' ma heid aff for the last half oor!"—Boston Transcript.

Cubeb.

Cubeb berries are from the climbing plant called Piper Cubeba, native of the West Indies, being extensively cultivated in Java and Sumatra. It is used as local stimulant in indigestion and as a flavoring vehicle in mixtures and gargles. It is valuable particularly in diseases of the mucous membrane, especially of the bronchi. Frequently smoked in cigarettes for their effect on the mucous membrane of the bronchi and larynx.

The Picture of Benjamin Franklin Appears on the New War Savings Stamps of the 1919 Issue.

W. S. S. CAMPAIGN OFF TO A GOOD START.

The 1919 War Savings campaign started with a rush.

Men, women and children all over New York State are showing their patriotism by purchasing the new Government securities.

Paying 4 per cent, with interest compounded quarterly, the stamps offer an ideal investment.

Thomas A. Edison, the wizard of electricity, started the ball rolling by becoming a limit purchaser of $1,000 worth of stamps.

Each of the new stamps is adorned with the likeness of Benjamin Franklin, the father of the thrift idea, whose birthday anniversary was celebrated on January 17.

The Stroller Hears That Bees Make Best Weather Prophets and Have the Groundhog Seeking His Hole in Disgust.

"What do you think of the groundhog school of weather prophets?" asked the customer as the busy barber paused for a second from the job of honing a razor.

"Kinder looks so far that Bre'r Groundhog is a back number," replied the busy barber, "but we will be able to tell more about it by the 31st of April."

"There you go again dodging the issue," interrupted the customer.

"Well," retorted the barber, "if you want to know my personal opinion I want to tell you fair that in my mind old Mr. Bee has Bre'r Groundhog seeking his hole in disgust when it comes to prophesying what kind of weather is going to be handed out."

"What are you getting at now?" asked the customer.

"You remember last fall I told you we were going to have a long cold winter," explained the barber, "and I based my observation on the fact that when I went honeying I found that the bees had stocked up for fair with honey."

"I have a dim recollection to that effect," agreed the customer

"Well this fall when I went out after honey," continued the barber, "I found that the bees did not have as much honey stored as last season and I made up my mind then that we were going to have an easy winter."

"Kinder looks as though you have hit it right so far," agreed the customer.

"And," continued the barber, "if old Mr. Bee has not made a mistake you need not look for any real cold weather."

EVERY ONE HAD A THEATER ORDINANCE

At Least So It Seemed At Common Council Session. But Mann's Resolution Carried Day—Now Question Is Will Mayor Veto It—A Hot Time.

What had promised to be a tame and peaceful monthly session of the board of aldermen was thrown into an uproar Tuesday evening when Alderman Roosa of the Second ward decided it was time that he took a hand in the theater license controversy and introduced a resolution regulating theater license fees, and before the question was finally settled—for the time being—it looked as though every one of the aldermen would take a hand in introducing theater resolutions.

It was a big night for the Sixth ward, however, for Alderman Mann's theater resolution was the one that was finally adopted, over Alderman Schick's warning that Mayor Canfield would veto it.

The Roosa Resolution.

Alderman Roosa may have been aware that he was about to explode a bomb shell, but his face gave no hint to that effect as he handed the page a resolution to be given to City Clerk Doremus to read. The resolution in effect was that all theatres seating 1 to 250 pay a license fee of $25 a year; theaters seating 250 to 500 pay $50 a year; theaters seating 500 to 800 pay $75 a year; and those seating 800 and over pay $100 a year. The same to take effect when the present licenses expire. It was promptly seconded by Alderman Preston of the First ward.

Courtesy to Connelly.

Alderman Schilp of the Fourth ward stated that Alderman Connelly had asked him that if the theater question came up that night, when he was unable to be present, that it be held open to the March meeting when he would be present, and Alderman Schilp asked that as a matter of courtesy to Alderman Connelly that that be done.

"Punky Show And Soak You."

Alderman Mann of the Sixth ward said he would like to be heard and said that the Kingston Opera House and the Orpheum on holidays always put on a "punky show and then simply soaked you." The only objection he had to the Roosa resolution was that the license fees should be much more.

"Lay Over For Month."

When Mann sat down Alderman Schilp offered an amendment to the Roosa resolution that it lay over for one month.

Alderman Preston of the First ward said that if the license fees were not fixed at this meeting it would mean the theaters would only have to pay the present license fee for this year. Alderman Preston waxed eloquent and referred to the time way back in 1773 when a certain king named Charles the Third tried to place a tax, and wound up with the injunction "Don't be penny wise and pound foolish."

An Amendment To An Amendment.

"I would like to reply to Alderman Preston," said Alderman Schilp, and he went on to state that he wanted to be fair to every one and that as far as he was concerned the theater proprietors were entitled to a square deal and should receive one.

"Is an amendment to the amendment in order?" asked Alderman Kelly of the Fifth ward, addressing President Watts.

"We'll have to vote on the amendment," ruled the chair.

Van Valkenburgh Wanted To Know.

"To clear up a little mystery in my mind," said Alderman Van Valkenburgh of the Ninth ward, "I would remind you gentlemen that I was not a member of the board when you had what I might term your little squabbles over the theater question, but from what I can learn it seems to me the matter ought to be brought up promptly, as I am informed that the licenses expire shortly."

Who Voted For Kelly?

"I would like to say—" said Alderman Mann, jumping up as Alderman Van Valkenburgh sat down.

But the alderman from the Sixth was gently but firmly ruled out of order by President Watts who stated that the vote should be taken on the amendment. Aldermen Schilp, Kelly, Mann, Kirchner, Kullmann and Van Valkenburgh voted in favor of the amendment and Aldermen Preston, Roosa, Schick, Higgins and Hull against its adoption.

While the vote was being taken City Clerk Doremus marked Alderman Kelly as voting "aye" but when Alderman Schilp called for the absentees Alderman Kelly informed the clerk that he had not voted although some one called "aye" when Kelly's name was called. The alderman from the Fifth said "I am kinder mixed up on this proposition what are we voting for?"

The clerk explained the amendment and then the Alderman form the Fifth voted "aye" as some one had previously done for him.

What Mann Wanted.

By adopting the amendment the Roosa resolution was laid over until next month.

When do the licenses run out?" asked Alderman Hull of the Twelfth ward addressing the chair.

President Watts stated that he was unable to state, but several of the aldermen stated that they had been informed that the licenses expired this month.

"I make a resolution then" said Alderman Mann that the licenses be held open for one month and the chief of police be instructed not to issue any licenses until this question is settled."

Schick Takes A Hand.

No one seconded the Mann resolution and then Alderman Schick of the Third took a hand in the proceedings and said that he would amend the theatre resolution to read all theatres of a seating capacity of over 500 pay a fee of $75 a year. Said he, "We have a theatre building uptown that brings in $2,000 in taxes a year. We should have had such a theatre ten years ago.

"Why don't my motion prevail" said Alderman Mann at that juncture "Can't it be done?"

"I doubt if it can," replied President Watts.

"Then I want to reply to Alderman Schick," said the alderman from the Sixth. "These theaters are making a bunch of money. I don't want to impose a penalty on them, but they should pay at least $100 to $125 a year in fees."

"Saved the Bacon."

Alderman Preston here took a hand in the argument and said that Mr. Keeney had stepped in and "saved the bacon of some men who had invested heavily in the new theater." He said that he would second the Schick resolution.

The Schick resolution was also lost by a vote of 6 to 5, Aldermen Preston Roosa, Schick, Higgins and Hull voting in favor of it and Aldermen Schilp, Kelly, Mann, Kirchner, Kullmann and Van Valkenburgh voting against it.

There the theater question rested for the time being while the council took up some other business, which will be found elsewhere.

Mann on Job Again.

It was after this other business had been disposed of that Alderman Mann renewed the theater controversy by introducing a resolution that all show houses seating 500 and over pay a fee of $125, that houses seating 250 to 500 pay $75; and houses seating 1 to 250 pay $25.

"Second it," whispered Alderman Schilp, turning to Alderman Kelly.

"What's the matter with you seconding it," retorted the alderman from the Fifth.

"I second it," said the alderman from the Fourth, while the other aldermen smiled.

Alderman Preston moved that the Mann resolution be laid on the table for a month, but his resolution was lost by a vote of 8 to 3.

"Don't Make Fools of Council."

It was then that Alderman Schick took the floor before the vote was taken on the Mann resolution and said "I take the floor out of respect to an alderman who is absent tonight and ask that the board have a little consideration for this absent alderman." (He referred to Alderman Connelly.)

"I asked for that respect a while ago," interrupted Alderman Schilp.

"This whole question is out of order," continued Alderman Schick, and he stated that unless an entire ordinance was introduced that it would surely be vetoed by Mayor Canfield. "What are you going to do make a fool of the common council?" he asked. He said that to his mind the resolution introduced by Alderman Mann if adopted would not stand. The Connelly ordinance was vetoed once because of some question about it not stating that it must be published in the newspapers three times, and he wound up by saying that the Mann resolution would be of no effect if adopted.

"Then the Preston and Roosa resolution would have been out of order if adopted," interrupted Alderman Mann.

"That's right," agreed Alderman Schick.

"And how about your resolution Alderman Schick?" asked Alderman Mann.

"If this resolution is not legal what's the use of voting on it," said Alderman Schilp.

"Knew It From the Start."

"I knew it from the start," continued Alderman Schick, "and I simply introduced my resolution to keep the ball rolling."

"We will now vote on the Mann resolution," said President Watts.

"What's the use if it is of no effect?" asked Alderman Schilp.

"That is a question for the corporation counsel to decide," said President Watts.

At this point Alderman Schilp left his seat and leaning over the rail whispered with Attorney F. C. Merritt of the Kingston Taxpayers' Association, who was present.

"Let's Have His Opinion."

"Alderman Schilp has just been talking with an attorney here," said Alderman Schick, "let him give us the opinion advanced him by this attorney before we vote on the question."

The other aldermen smiled and then the clerk called the roll on the Mann resolution which was adopted by a vote of 7 to 4. The four voting against it were Aldermen Preston, Roosa, Schick and Hull, while Aldermen Schilp, Kelly, Mann, Kirchner, Kullmann, Van Valkenburgh and Higgins voted for its adoption.

It was adopted.

"Any more theater resolutions?" asked President Watts when the vote was announced.

The question now is what will Mayor Canfield do with the Mann resolution.

Other matters taken up at the session will be found elsewhere.

SUSPICIOUS OF GERMAN KINDNESS

Corporal Sass Writes That German Hospitality is Not Thought to be Genuine by the Boys Keeping the Watch on Rine.

Corporal Frank Sass, Co. M, 51st Pioneer Infantry, writes from near Coblenz as follows;

Germany,
Dec. 28. 1918.

My Dear Mr. Schoonmaker.—I received your letter quite some time ago, but was unable to answer before this, because we were on our hike to Germany, and you can believe me, it surely was some hike, all the way from the city of Toul, France to within about 5 miles from Coblenz, Germany, this is what we call our victorious march to the famous Rhine.

I can well imagine the big time that the people back home must had when the news of the signing of the armistice reached that little town on the Hudson, but that little town "Kingston" is good enough for me any time.

From what I saw on the pictures that you sent me, there surely must have been a very large crowd at the launching of the good ship "Esopus. I would have like to have been there to see her take her first trip in to water in the creek, but as long as there are more to be built, I think I will get a chance to see one of Uncle Sam's ships take the water. Well we are here occupying Germany's land, and I think I will be here until peace has been signed which may take some time, but I hope that time will be very short. The treatment we are getting here looks good, but we must be very careful, because we don't think it is genuine.

All the boys of the old crowd that came away from Kingston are feeling fine. Well I will wish you a very Happy New Year although I know it will be some time before you receive this. Hoping this finds you in the best of health.

I am sincerely,
CORP F. SASS.

Soldier Acknowledges Gift.

Miss Henrietta Van Tassell of 65 North Front street is a happy little girl by reason of having received a letter from an American soldier in Germany. A few months ago she sent a box of smokers' articles, obtained of S. Cohen's Sons, overseas to be delivered to some soldier in the army. Tuesday Henrietta received a letter from Trier, Germany, signed Leo Otese, A. E. F., stating: "Received package of smokers. With many thanks." As Miss Van Tassell is confined to her home with a cold, the receipt of the letter caused an improvement in her condition almost immediately.

Armageddon.

Armageddon, mentioned in Revelation 16:16, was the plain of Esdraelon, the scene of Israelitish victories, and hence the term is used to signify the scene of a momentous test of any kind, especially of a decisive battle. It was used by the Progressive national convention in 1912, and has been frequently used in connection with the war.
